Labour & Employment Law Webinar

16 April 2025 1 min read

Please join us for our first webinar where we will be considering implications of the proposed amendments to the Labour Relations Act (LRA) relating to industrial action.

Topics to be covered include:

- New picketing provisions
Powers of the CCMA to prohibit or regulate picketing in anticipation of industrial action and of the Labour Court to enforce them during strike action. Will this address or limit picket line violence?
- New strike ballot provisions
What effect they may have on the incidents of strikes.
- New Advisory Arbitration Panel
What effect will this panel and this type of arbitration have on intractable and violent strikes?

Join us for this informative online session and ensure you are in a position to anticipate and plan for these changes to the LRA.

If you have any specific questions relating to the topic that you wish to have addressed, please email these to Tanya Weiner by 20 April 2018.
